HOW IT WORKS

MAXSURI GLOBAL operates a product network that cuts across the globe. This product network is unique in itself because it's a combination of both binary and multi-level rewarding system.

On this rewarding system members get to earn Business Volume from their left and right legs. These points are accumulated from the activities of both the left and right team of a particular member. Points from the lesser leg (left or right) is matched with the greater leg and a certain percentage from the matched point is earned as BINARY BONUS.

Points are earned when there is a new signup or product purchase from either the left or right team of a particular member.

These points are earned upwards till infinity.
